

Kino Books - Topic Cross Reference Table and Guide

To The General Reader: In a very short time the general reader can have a clear and complete understanding of Father Kino and not get overwhelmed by his event filled life. The three online sources recommended are: "Padre Kino and The Trail to the Pacific" and online guides [1]; the "Kino Life Chapters" with its maps [7]; and the 27 paged biography in the Kino chapter in "Not Counting the Cost" [8] with its ethnohistorical background.

To Teacher, Writer & Kino Aficionado: The goal of the Topic Cross Reference Table is to give access to the key authors and their books written about Father Kino. It uses principal Kino topics as they appear in the book "Padre Kino and The Trail to the Pacific." This book is historically very accurate and complete is in a historical fiction genre. There are two lists of page references for the book left of the topic column [3]. Page column [1] references the original 1960 edition that is available on the Kino Heritage website with book guides. Page column [2] references the 2014 edition in paperback published by Kino Heritage Society.

The references in the columns to the right of the topic column [3] are to the pages of three other key Kino books that are discussed below and are identified by numbers in the corresponding columns [4] [5] [6]. Also used are Reference Table sub headings [7] that use ABCs mnemonic headings from the two paged "Kino Life Chapters - ABCDE" with its 5 maps. The only other important Kino book not listed is the best book for the historian: "Kino and Manje: Explorers of Sonora and Arizona" by Ernest J. Burrus. In the future page references will be added from "Favores Celestiales" and "The Biography of Father Saeta" written by Father Kino.

Page Columns [1] 1960 edition and [2] 2014 edition: "Padre Kino and The Trail to the Pacific" by Jack (Jacqueline) Steffan. The most accessible book on Kino and is very accurate and complete account.

[3] Topic Column: Kino key topics based on order of appearance in "Padre Kino and The Trail to the Pacific"

[4] Page Column "Rim of Christendom: Biography of Eusebio Francisco Kino - Pacific Coast Pioneer" by Dr. Herbert Eugene Bolton 1936 & 1984 editions. Definitive book on Kino with great images and index (644 pg.).

[5] Page Column "With Padre Kino on the Trail" by Dr. Frank C. Lockwood 1934 edition
Gem of an account arranged in a topical order; many Kino letters to Duchess of Averio & his Jesuit superiors.
Online at (available soon)

[6] Page Column "Kino Legacy: His Life, His Works, His Missions, His Monuments" by Dr. Charles W. Polzer, S.J. Edition: 1998. Most recent book by acclaimed Kino scholar contains 93 page chronological biography of Kino; background history of the Pimería Alta before and after Kino's life; guide to Kino mission chain: history of finding Kino's skeletal remains; and history of Kino honors in statues and other art forms.

[7] Table Sub Headings: "Kino Life Chapters - ABCDE" (2 pages) with corresponding chapter maps (3 pages). Summary and maps prepared by members of the Kino Heritage Society. Kino life and legacy at a glance.
